

2 ROCK COUNTY BOYS WHO DIED IN FRANCE HONORED AT 'Y' CAMP

Two gold stars representing the service and supreme sacrifice of former campers now appear on the service flag of Alumni campers of Phantom lake camp, the state Y. M. C. A. boys' camp at Mukwonago.

The memory of Lieut. Glenn Ross, Beloit, and Sergt. Carroll B. West, Milton Junction, who lost their lives in France, will be properly commemorated by the 1919 campers who have just closed Phantom's largest season. Photographs have been received from the parents, Mr. and Mrs. George L. Ross, Beloit, and Mr. and Mrs. A. B. West, Milton Junction. They will be enlarged and hung in the assembly room of the "big cabin" at Phantom lake, serving as ideals of self sacrifice and devotion to duty to future campers.

Both Lieutenants Ross and Sergeant West were members of the Order of Phantom Square, and in a letter received from Lieutenant Ross just before his death, he wrote "Daddy, please state boys' word secretary of Y. M. C. A. that he always wore the camp emblem under his house and during the years it has signified to him the all-round development which the Phantom Square plan signifies symmetrical development, mental, physical and social, and from year to year the campers eagerly compete for the honor of wearing it. First year campers compete for the gold emblem, second the silver and third the gold.

The continued growth of the state Y. M. C. A. boys' camps which have been in operation since 1908, has demanded enlarged camping facilities. Two additional camps are now operated by the state association, one at Steuben Bay, Wisconsin, and from year to year the campers eagerly compete for the honor of wearing it. Russian Buck Private First to Get School Aid

Madison, Sept. 24.—"Frank Kupris, born in Russia, buck private, serving in the battles of the Somme, Meuse, Argonne and other battles, is the first person to be awarded the bonus under the educational bonus law," said Edward A. Fitzpatrick, secretary of the state board of education, today. Private Kupris will be assigned to the Wisconsin High school.

Stanley C. Fosse, a sergeant with overseas service, wounded in battle, is the second person to receive the educational bonus. He is assigned to Beloit College.

Carlyle B. Wurster, a second lieutenant, infantry, with extended overseas service, and slightly wounded at Chateau Thierry is the third person to receive a bonus. He is assigned to the University Law school.

The state board of education is actively pushing the educational bonus law, and is planning to establish special commercial work in the state, and the state board of education will give itself unrelentingly to the work of making the needs of men less than college grade.

DIAMONDS ON SHOES

PARIS.—At a recent ball a French society woman created a sensation by dancing in shoes glittering with diamonds.

Jewelers and watchmakers declare that there has been a famine of diamonds this year because the demand, especially from the United States and America is 10 times greater than the supply. Prices continue to soar because English companies controlling 90 percent of the output refuse to sell in order to keep up prices. Many wealthy families, it is said, want to invest in diamonds while the newly rich want diamonds for show.

NEWS FOR BOYS AND GIRLS

A "Steak on Stones" Fry

Director of Physical Training for Women, The University of Illinois

Late September is just the time of the year to like to the woods for a breakfast fry. Be sure to choose a place where you will find some small stones and where you can build a fire. A party of eight is about the right size for a "steak fry" picnic.

Of course, the most important part of the program is the steak. Buy a porterhouse steak one and one-half inches thick, and large enough to satisfy eight outdoor appetites. Take plenty of plain bread sandwiches and a small sharp knife for cutting the meat. The rest of the lunch may consist of pickles, fruit and cookies or whatever you choose.

After a five or six-mile hike in the exhilarating air of a September morning, there will be a unanimous vote for an early dinner. As you gather wood for the fire, collect also stones from five to ten inches in diameter. Put them in the center of the fire where the heat is most intense. In five or six minutes they will be hot enough for cooking.

Meanwhile cut the steak in pieces the right size for the sandwiches and get ready a supply of small sticks, one end whittled to a sharp point. As soon as the fire begins to die down, roll out the stones with the aid of stout sticks. Grease them with lard or fat and put the meat on to cook. Turn it every minute or so with the small pointed sticks. Don't forget the salt. Make each girl cook her own. That is half the fun.

Words can't describe the "deliciousness" of a "steak on stones" fry. Next week, stand ready to ready for another. The stones are still piping hot, so everyone get busy again and cook a "second helping."

When they are done there is nothing left but a knife to be carried home by eight gloriously happy and healthily tired girls.

(Next week: "Stand Tall." Every girl and every woman too, should read it.)

FIRST FROST OF SEASON EXPECTED

Get out your furs, girls, for a cold spell is about to descend upon the city which may last until the first snowfall of the winter arrives. Warmings of a frost in the lowlands were sent out today by the weather bureau. The first frost of the year is expected to visit Rock county tonight or Friday night.

Local prognosticators who are in the habit of announcing the weather program by the stars and the moon claim that the initial frost will surely hit Janesville within the next 48 hours. "They base their claims on the fact that there never is a frost until a new moon."

61 YEARS IN ONE JOB

London.—Sixty-one years services on one farm is the record of William Carter, aged 78, who is still working at Mulholland Farm, Tonbridge, Kent. He is in good health and walks three miles a day to and from home. He admires time-saving machinery, but objects to a lawn mower. He always cuts grass with a scythe.

FATAL DELUSION

London.—Depression owing to his wife's illness caused James F. Smith, 65, to have the delusion that someone was constantly tapping on his bedroom wall. He cut his throat.

FRANCES' WILLARD'S BIRTHDAY OBSERVED

Frances E. Willard's birthday was celebrated this afternoon by the training school. A program was given at the school house where the great temperance worker first attended school. The school, which is southwest of this city, is taught by Miss Edna Barrett.

The program which was given follows: Quotations on Temperance; "Life of Frances E. Willard," Elsie Davis; the Progress of Temperance Question; "Battle Hong" declamation, Jane Jackson; "The First Home of Frances Willard," Lillian Anderson; book report, Marion Pfefferman; "America the Beautiful," by the school; critics' reports, Ella Jacobs.

The students visited the state school for the blind this afternoon. They inspected the buildings and visited classes.

Next week the picture of Frances Willard, which was presented to the training school by this year's graduating class, will be dedicated by members of the W. C. T. U. Probably one of the state officers will be present, Principal F. J. Lowth said today.

BREAKS LONG VOW FOR SON

London.—"When I was 25 years of age I made a very solemn vow that I would never become a surety again—not even for my own father," said James Pickwell, 62, when asked to become surety in $150 for the good behavior of his son, James, 30, charged with theft. He reconsidered the matter and agreed to become surety, but it was discovered he was not worth the amount.

GAGE CHOSEN EDITOR OF PHOENIX; JUNIOR CLASSES ARE UNITED

For the first time in the history of the Janesville High school, the Phoenix, the school's biennial, will be put out by a joint class. It has been the custom of the school for the junior class to put out the book but as there are now two junior classes, they got together at a meeting last night and elected officers. A nomination committee composed of Robert Grubb, Gwendolyn Carman, Betty Sayles, Chad Newman and Raymond MacDoe nominated two candidates for each office.

TRAINING SCHOOL STUDENTS PRACTICE

Training school students have begun practice-teaching with the pupils of the model school. They teach all subjects taught in the first three grades.

Principal P. J. Lowth has been appointed to edit "Practical Problems of the School Room," in the Wisconsin Journal of Education. He is teaching fifth grade in his department.

Miss Katherine Lane, teacher at the Jefferson school, has an article in the department this month. The purpose of the department is to give working teachers material of actual use in connection with their daily work.

Principal Lowth will give an address in October at the Motherhouse School in Milwaukee, conducted by the sisters of Notre Dame. He will discuss methods of teaching language and reading.

Miss Dorothy Stewart, training school student, substituted for two days this week in the fifth and sixth grades of the Clinton school in the absence of the teacher, Miss Mabie Francis. Anderson, author of the "Blue Moon" will give an address at the training school, Tuesday, Sept. 30.

DEFENDS SUNDAY GAMES

London.—(Times) men and women are fit to take their places at work on Monday there is something wrong in the way they spend their Sunday.

said the Rev. J. Fynn, head of "Cambridge House." He said he could not understand why there should be any prejudice against games on Sunday, particularly for those who could not play them during the week-days.

Sports that Boys Like

Football Signals

By T. F. Jones, Athletic Director The University of Wisconsin

Every lad who plays football knows that the one thing that he must guard as closely as the password to his pet lodge, is the system of the signals of his team. Every coach tries to secure a set of signals which will be as clear to his men as they are baffling to the opponents.

The simplest system of signals is the best. They should not be a mathematical problem. The best system is the simple method of numbering each play and then teaching each man his duty in that play, having a different number for every play.

A series of numbers is called, one number for each play. The series would run—1, 2, 3, 4, 5, 6, 7, 8, 9, 10, 11, 12, 13, 14, 15, 16, 17, 18, 19, 20, 21, 22, 23, 24, 25, 26, 27, 28, 29, 30, 31, 32, 33, 34, 35, 36, 37, 38, 39, 40, 41, 42, 43, 44, 45, 46, 47, WE MAY KNOW YET.

Early in October a scientific expedition will arrive in Seattle, Washington, from Alaska, which will bring back information tending to throw additional light on the dark spot of modern science,—what composes the inside of the earth.

Announcement is made by the National Geographic society at Washington, that the sixth Mt. Katmai expedition of the society is preparing to sail from Kodiak Island after many months spent in fruitful scientific study of the unique and spectacular natural phenomenon known as The Valley of Ten Thousand Smokes, at the foot of the gigantic Mt. Katmai volcano.

Not only has the expedition, headed by Dr. Robert F. Griggs, accumulated an amount of scientific data beyond happiest anticipation, but according to a telegraphic report to the society, a fine harbor, not previously known, has been found which affords a feasible route to this region of the innumerable vents of various kinds which spurt steams and vapors of almost unbelievable temperatures.

The discovery of this harbor is considered of marked interest because President Wilson has proclaimed the region of Ten Thousand Smokes a national monument, and it will not be long before this new federal reservation will be visited by tourists who wish to view a spectacle no less awe inspiring than the spouting geysers and other natural wonders of our own national parks.

"But the primary interest of this region, to the civilized world, will be the unequalled opportunity it affords for penetrating some of the hidden secrets beneath the surface of the globe on which we dwell," says a bulletin from the National Geographic society.

"We laugh at the child who says the moon is made of green cheese; but the child might smile at us if he would but ask, 'What is the earth made of?'"

"Though science has penetrated to the infinitesimal secrets of the invisible atom, and it has reached to other solar systems so far out in the universe that we know about stars from which it takes the light 5,000 years to travel to this earth, its penetration of the inner earth is no deeper, comparatively, than a pin scratch on the cover of a mammoth balloon.

"The ancients thought the way to learn the mysteries of what lies under our feet was to dig deeper, and ever deeper, but we know now that even modern engineering which can pierce the mountains and burrow under rivers can not penetrate deeply enough to tell much of Mother Earth.

"In such phenomena as volcanic eruptions, earthquakes, and geysers lie the key to the hitherto hidden secrets of the globe. It has been established that the hissing, steaming, exploding areas that seem like a multi-magnified depot yard of molten engines is a modern example of what the geysers of Yellowstone National Park once were.

"The vastness and intensity of the molten mass which spits the vapors of this terrifying valley is indicated by the discovery of new high temperatures among the fumaroles. Early parties were not equipped to measure the unexpected heat of some of the fumaroles. Dr. Griggs wires that the hottest ones have just been found, where the highest temperature was 1,191.2 degrees, Fahrenheit, and that many of the escaping vapors kindle wood into a blaze as readily as a match burns when struck.

"Beside chemists, petrographers, zoologists, and botanists, the expedition this summer marked a departure in scientific explorations of this kind by having along motion picture photographers. Ten thousand filmed feet of the spectacle which words can not picture are being brought back to be shown to members of The Society.

"Another finding of popular interest was the discovery of a region north of the National Monument reservation which not only is one of great natural beauty, but abounds in fish and game.

"The study of the economic side of this hitherto unknown region was not neglected. Dr. Griggs is shipping to Washington botanical and zoological material as well as specimens of plants and animals found about Mt. Katmai."

JUDGE LANDIS' METHODS.

Judge Landis, Chicago, inspires hope and courage in the hearts of the public by the rough-shod manner in which he tramples on those who attempt to withhold from the government, the government should know.

Not only once, but many times since his occupancy of the federal bench has he shown that he is fair and square and that the accused before him are entitled to the same opportunity as the complainants. But alas for defendants or witnesses who try to impose upon the noted jurist.

The Judge has a habit of "taking the hide off" of those who try to "slip anything over" and the original manner in which he does brings applause from the public.

In his questioning of those charged with taking beer from Wisconsin to Illinois, Judge Landis made public more of the inside workings of those engaged in the alleged smuggling than anyone who has handled prohibition violations. He ripped the cover right off the whole box of tricks and asked some pertinent questions which set some more or less prominent citizens to thinking. Then when he was satisfied that he had enough evidence to carry through what he had started he held those accused under heavy bond.

Judge Landis' method in dealing with the cases which come before him is so diametrically different from those used by some of our federal judges that he stands out as one of the notable figures of the governmental bench. Although he does not lack dignity, he is in the habit of displaying that human side of his character which has made him feared and respected. He does the unexpected and consequently furnishes good reading for newspaper followers.

THE INFLUENZA SCARE.

We hear a great deal about the flu and the methods which should be taken to prevent the spread of another epidemic. Warnings have been sounded and much advice has been given regarding the best methods of combating the disease.

Every precaution should be taken to avoid such a condition as arose last fall. Care should be exercised at this time wherever possible. But let us be sane about our discussion of and preparation for any emergency which may arise.

Locally there are no symptoms of influenza, as far

MANLINESS.

Stick through the heat of it, hammer and beat of it, play out the game to the end. Stand to the test of it, making the best of it, you have a name to defend. Heart and soul go for it, you have a show for it, fight just as hard as you can. But therein no doubt, of it, you can come out of it, failure or victor—a man.

Make a fair fight of it, keep to the right of it, honestly battle to win. But don't let the prize of it, glitter and size of it, tempt you to shame or to sin; Better by far to be short of the victory, better to bow to defeat. Than falsely get hold of it, knowing the gold of it carries the name of a cheat.

Hold yourself high above cheering and money-love, want something more than a goal; Treasure your honest name more than a victor's fame—nothing can pay for your soul. Then if you're beaten down, failing to gain the crown, you can come homeward in pride, Smiling and head-erect, owing your self-respect, knowing that truly you tried.

as can be learned. As far as we know we will not be molested by the disease. That being the supposition, let us not instill fear in those who would be weakened by it. Physicians will admit that fear weakens many who are afflicted. It has been proven that mental suggestion used in connection with medical clinics has shown its effects upon subjects under observation.

It is safe to say that many who had bad colds last year when we were in the clutch of the flu were weakened by the fear they held when they saw their friends and relatives passing on in numbers.

Let us protect ourselves against any epidemic that threatens, but let us not allow fear of what might happen to weaken us.

Newspapers in some sections have been too keen to overplay the stories concerning the flu. Already spine of them have made strides in stirring the people up to expect another scourge. If it does come, then it will be time enough to fight it. In the meantime we can take care of ourselves and be ready to meet it.

The White Sox finally won the game which clinched the American league pennant. Those who have been pulling for Kid Gleason's warriors are able to breathe a sigh of relief, for Cleveland might have copped. Now attention is turned to a comparison of the athletes of the Cincinnati Reds and the Sox. It is predicted that the opinions resulting from these comparisons will be backed by coin of the realm.

When the collection plate is passed around next Sunday remember that the preacher has had to meet the high cost of living the same as other mortals, but at the same time he has not had his salary raised in proportion to his needs.

At that the preacher is fortunate in one way. A plate is passed for him.

Their Opinions

Governor Philipp has threatened to remove the socialist sheriff of Milwaukee county if the latter fails to do his duty in handling the steel strike situation at the Bayview steel works. Every good citizen will approve this decision by the governor, and also will hope he will make good on his promise.—Daily Northwestern (Oshkosh).

The political advertisements suggest what amazing sacrifices some patriots will make to serve the community, and what tremendous fortunes such great men could make, if they were willing to devote their time to sordid money making.—Marquette Magic-Star.

Wilson says there will be reasonable time for "unnecessary debate" of this covenant matter. He had his fill of unnecessary debate at Versailles.—Beloit Daily News.

Mayor Hoan has refused to invite the King of Belgium to visit Milwaukee. That's pretty tough on Albert, but considering what he has been through he should be able to stand it.—Daily Commonwealth (Fond du Lac).

These frequent fall rains should be a hint to all drivers to keep their vehicles out of the ruts in the road and thus prevent cutting the highways to pieces before they have frozen and cannot be damaged to any extent.—Daily Reporter (Fond du Lac).

It can rain a little nowadays, but not in the whole-hearted fashion that it did during the summer.—Wausau Daily Record-Herald.

The other night burglars burglarized the home of the mayor of Milwaukee and got away with the goods. Burglars have nerve.—Superior Telegram.

The Shimmy Shuffles Out

By FREDERIC J. HASKIN, Director
Janesville Daily Gazette Information Bureau,
Washington, D. C.

New York, Sept. 25.—"On with the shimmy and the shuffle, and as a relaxation and exercise, but joy must be reined in," is the slogan which is now being loudly observed throughout New York. The shimmy is going, if not gone, and jazz is permitted to hold its own. The shimmy, which was the only dance of the season, was removed from the vaudeville at the beginning of the season, and the old familiar Strauss waltzes are now in high favor. Yet, in spite of these reforms, dancing is now more popular than it has been since 1914. Propriety instead of killing it, has strengthened its position in society and in the vaudeville. The cabaret owners have succeeded in regarding a dancing evening as a profitable season. The studios of the dancing masters are now crowded with students, and the studios of the dancing masters are now crowded with students, and the studios of the dancing masters are now crowded with students.

Another large hotel has converted its lounge into a dancing hall, and the studios of the dancing masters are now crowded with students, and the studios of the dancing masters are now crowded with students, and the studios of the dancing masters are now crowded with students. The studios of the dancing masters are now crowded with students, and the studios of the dancing masters are now crowded with students, and the studios of the dancing masters are now crowded with students.

Questioned as to the cause of the sudden new craze for dancing, the hotel men were unable to give satisfactory answers. "We know there was going to be such a demand for dancing space when you started making your repairs in August," one was asked, "and we have not been able to get a room since." "We have not been able to get a room since," one was asked, "and we have not been able to get a room since." "We have not been able to get a room since," one was asked, "and we have not been able to get a room since."

So cubic jazz. Jazz was purely accidental, the kind of a cabaret man while visiting New Orleans. According to one dancing master's story, the man was walking through the poorer quarter of the city one evening when the sound of curious music made him come to a stop and listen. He heard a band of negroes playing a tune that he had never heard before. He found that the noise or music or whatever it was, was being made by a band of four negroes, known as Razz's band. One played a baritone horn, one a trombone, another a cornet and another an instrument made out of the China berry tree, which he did not recognize until later. CORK LANE. There is a large percentage of Irish in Cork Lane, Pa., there is in Dublin. If you are not Irish and a Democrat, you would be like a fish out of water in Cork Lane. The little village of several thousand inhabitants is situated in northeastern Pennsylvania, about 10 miles from Scranton. A colony of Irish has lived there ever since the Civil war, hence the name of the village.

Specialties are cave holes and politics. Everywhere you walk in the town you have to watch your step to keep from falling into a gaping depression in the earth's surface, or avoid running into a heated dispute on politics—national, state and local. These cave holes, which look so picturesque to the visitor, are the source of great annoyance and oftentimes danger to the townsfolk. The town is in the very heart of the anthracite coal field and of late years the pillars of the hard coal industry were left to support the surface. The removal of the pillars causes the earth to subside.

Everybody who is entitled to a ballot in the town is a Democrat. It is considered quite a disgrace to be outside the pale of the Democratic party, and Republicans are about as scarce as the white rhinoceros. Of the old Irish settlers are still alive but those who are play the game of politics for all there is in it. It is not an uncommon thing to hear that a dozen or more dead men were voted at the last election.

The town was particularly hard hit by prohibition. But once the natives had come to the rescue with a concoction he has called "putcheen." It is said to be a worthy substitute for some of the old reliable brands.

Just Arrived Another Consignment of SONORA PHONOGRAPHS

Splendid time to make your selection. Come in and hear the wonderful sweet melodious tone, Sonora, "clear as a bell." Why listen to the twangy, scratchy metal tone when you can purchase the quality tone Sonora at about the same price. The proof of the pudding is the eating of it. I do not ask you to eat the Sonora but just come and hear it for yourself, then you will be a better judge of what Sonora tone is, for it is said that Sonora tone leads the world. There are hundreds of different named phonographs on the market, some factories making 20 to 25 stencil names of phonographs and all from one manufacturer. There is only one Sonora made by the Sonora Corporation and million dollars of capital and quality back of it.

JANESVILLE TO ROCKFORD ROADS MAY BE GUARDED

Fears of federal authorities that the new point for beer bound from Wisconsin to Illinois, has brought forth information that the officials have posted guards on all outboard roads south of Beloit and search every automobile that crosses the line.

Having done a good job on eastern through routes, making Sheridan road between Milwaukee and Chicago practically impassable, and closing other routes leading through Woodstock, the officials are now watching Janesville and Beloit as the next possible point, it is the motto of the federal officers.

Arrests of drivers of truck loads of beer from the Lake Shore route, and the confiscation of more than 100 barrels of the "joy water" at Woodstock, have given evidence that every effort is being made by the government to stop the transportation of liquor from Wisconsin into Illinois. So far no attempt has been made to stop an occasional case of beer being brought into Rockford, but at the first intimation that such is becoming a general practice guards will be posted and every automobile will be searched.

Checks are being made of the number of automobiles which enter Janesville during the day. Yesterday it was found that cars bearing Illinois license numbers arrived in Janesville and in each case the car stopped in front of local stores while the occupants went inside and purchased beer.

MERCHANTS PREPARE FOR AUTUMN OPENING

With the fall season officially ushered in, Janesville merchants have turned their attention to the annual combined autumn opening, which will be held Friday and Saturday, October 3-4. Efforts will be extended by all to make the 1919 opening eclipses those of previous years, when thousands of people have thronged the streets to feast their eyes on the latest goods as displayed in shop windows.

Bower City hall will be secured to play on the streets during the first night of the opening festival. Unusually early opening will commence shortly after 7 o'clock. Through the Chamber of Commerce nearly every merchant in the city has agreed to take part in the opening.

FIRE MAKERS WARNED TO TAKE PRECAUTIONS

Urgent warning against the carelessness in starting fires in heating plants is sounded by the industrial commission of the state in a letter sent to Chief Cornelius Murphy of this city's department. The letter points out that 25 per cent of the 1918 Wisconsin fires and about 19 per cent of the fire waste were due to heating plant fire hazards.

In introducing a table of fires, causes and loss the letter states:

"The following statistics from the 1918 fire reports clearly point out these defects and the much needed remedies for the guidance and instruction of the fire inspectors and all citizens. Without the full cooperation of the fire insurance companies throughout the state this commission and your fire department can do but little to improve this bad record of needless waste and loss of life and property."

A study of the table is urged upon all:

Causes of fires No. of fires.	Loss.
Asbestos against wood.	$6,950
Chimneys burning out.	29 15,815
Defective chimneys.	270 443,775
Sparks from chimneys.	234 178,795
Defective fire places.	7 5,905
Defective furnaces.	50 167,190
Hot-air pipes near woodwork.	5 30,285
Stoves near woodwork.	146 199,655
Defective stove pipes.	22 14,120
Stove pipes near woodwork.	6 56,470
Clothing hung near stove.	16 18,380
Total.	$86 $1,141,040

With the advent of cooler weather and the starting of stoves and furnaces the people are urged to be requested to take every precaution possible to guard against fires. Chief Murphy said that no chimney fires have been reported as yet.

BARRIAGE, OLDEST CITY FIREMAN DIES

Janesville's oldest fireman, Benjamin Barriage, passed away this morning at 10 o'clock at his home, 108 Fourth avenue, after an illness of many days.

He was born in this city Sept. 25, 1856 and entered the fire department when 17 years old. The department consisted of the fire police. Mr. Barriage was the driver. He served on the city department until January when he was required to give up his position because of ill health.

In December, 1897, he was married to Miss Edith Mary Husker. She died Oct. 12, 1905.

Two children survive him, John Barriage, and Mrs. L. L. Goecker of this city.

Funeral announcement will be made later.

Work on Foundation Will Be Started Soon

Work of wrecking the residences on the site to be occupied by the new high school on South Main street started yesterday. Today seven men were engaged in razing the building.

Ford, Boos, and Schoof, who were awarded the contract for building the foundation for the new school, are in charge of the work. They are making every effort to get the work on the foundation started at once.

Many people believe that the final plans for the new high school have not been received and they are complaining against the contract for the foundation being let. Members of the school board today said that the final plans for the new building have been received and approved.

LOCAL PEOPLE MAY ATTEND PHONE RATE HEARING AT MADISON

Janesville business men and all persons affected by the present toll rates of the Wisconsin Telephone company will be permitted to attend the rate hearing which will be held before the railroad commission at Madison October 14. The commission is now operating the investigation into existing toll rates, the results of the probe to be aired at the public hearing.

The case has been started in order to compel the telephone company to install reasonable rates. Soon after the postmaster-general took over the telephone and telegraph lines he ordered rates put into effect which greatly increased the cost of long distance telephoning. The Wisconsin Telephone company filed these rates for approval, which were denied by the railroad commission.

The supreme court, however, held that the state had no authority while the lines were operated by the federal government. When congress passed the law relinquishing federal control it provided that these increased rates remain in force for 60 months unless changed by state authorities. The burden of proof in the hearing rests on the company.

WELLS BEGINS WORK AS C. OF C. MANAGER

Fall and winter activities of the Chamber of Commerce were begun today with the arrival of George F. Wells, Corning, N. Y., to succeed Frank M. Green as manager of the organization. Mr. Wells reached Janesville last night in time to attend an informal meeting of members of the hotel committee at the Chamber of Commerce.

Weather conditions interfered with his plans for his trip west. He planned to make the trip by auto but was forced to abandon the trip at Buffalo on account of heavy rains.

"I am certainly glad to be here and to find the affairs of the organization running along so smoothly," he said today. "I shall spend the first few days getting adjusted to local conditions and consulting with members of the Chamber of Commerce."

Mr. Wells will make his first speech as manager of the chamber at the bi-weekly Chamber of Commerce luncheon which will probably be held Monday noon.

Mrs. Tai Chi Quo.

Mrs. Daichuan Quo is the wife of Tai Chi Quo, a member of the Chinese delegation to the peace conference at Paris. Mrs. Quo spent months in Paris with her husband and her impressions of the peace conference are clear and definite. "The Shantung decision of the conference will teach a nation of more than 400,000,000 people the danger of night," she claims, "and that may mean that China will be compelled to abandon her traditional pacific policy and take up arms in self-defense."

MRS. KLINE DIES; UNCONSCIOUS 4 DAYS

Mrs. Jesse Kline, for a number of years a resident of this city, passed away last night at the Delavan sanitarium, after an illness of four days. She is survived by her husband, Jesse Kline, who for many years was superintendent of the Y. M. C. A. in this city, and one daughter, Ruth Ann Kline, services will be held in Knightstown, Ind., where the family has lived since leaving this city.

For a number of years the Kline family has spent the summer at their cottage at Lake Delavan. It was at the cottage that Mrs. Kline became ill Saturday morning, never regaining consciousness.

County War History Work Is Progressing; 600 Soldiers Missing

Work on the war history for Rock county is progressing according to the information which was received today from Mrs. David Holmes, chairman of the war history committee. Close to 700 questionnaires have been received and filled. There are still 600 men who have not been heard from. Mrs. Holmes stated that it was the plan of the committee to publish the names of those men who, living in Janesville, enlisted out of the city. This is the only list of its kind which has been made, Mrs. Holmes stated.

The business college students have done work for the committee. The writing of the history is now being done by the high school assisted in the work also.

Whitewater News

[By Gazette Correspondent.]
Whitewater, Sept. 25.—The body of Lewis Wheeler, Spring Valley, was brought to Whitewater yesterday for interment at Hillside. Last Sunday, when he and his son were attempting to cross a railroad track, freight train derailed into the trestle, killing his son, Harry. He was about 62 years old and was born in Whitewater, being the son of the late J. J. Wheeler. He leaves two sons, Harry and Ray.

Mrs. Fred Freer, Chicago, Mr. and Mrs. Ray Wheeler, Ulica, Ill., Charles Wheeler, Ladd, and Fred Wheeler, Oskaloosa, Iowa, accompanied the body of Mr. Wheeler to Whitewater.

The Parent-Teacher association met at the high school Tuesday afternoon. Mrs. B. B. James gave a talk on the subject of "The Community and the Teacher." She pointed out numerous ways in which the parents could cooperate with the teacher in the school. Mrs. James spoke on a different phase of the subject suggesting ways in which the teacher could help the community. The meeting was very successful.

Fireman Does Speedy Work Repairing Auto

All records for the repairing of automobiles were shattered yesterday by Charles Schultz, mechanic for the fire department, when he not only repaired the fire truck at station No. 3 but made a record breaking trip to the Milwaukee factory at Racine for parts for the machine.

Early Monday morning when the department was responding to an alarm the steering gear of the machine broke and made the car useless until a new steering gear was secured. The accident occurred on Court street shortly after 4 o'clock and at 5 o'clock Mechanic Schultz and Harry O. Nowlan, president of the fire and police commission, were headed for Racine in Chief Cornelius Murphy's car.

Mr. Schultz informed Mr. Nowlan that the trip was to be made in record time. Mr. Nowlan was agreeable.

Racine was reached in a few hours. The Mitchell officials promised Mr. Schultz that the part needed would be ready before sundown. Workers at the Mitchell factory were told that the work must be finished and Mr. Schultz was notified at 3:35 o'clock that it was ready for delivery.

Refusing to wait for dinner Mr. Schultz and Mr. Nowlan started back and arrived in Janesville a few minutes before 7 o'clock. After a short delay at station No. 1 explaining their trip Mr. Schultz hurried to the Spring Brook station where he started work on the machine.

At 9:30 o'clock he strode into the west side station with a satisfied smile.

"Well, chief, the work is finished."

Route Work Delayed. Eau Claire.—Work on the $210,000 federal trunk concrete highway between Eau Claire and Chippewa Falls has been brought to a stop because cement shipments have failed to arrive and it is feared that this piece of road, just a little over half done, will not be completed before cold weather halts operations. It is claimed that heavy grain shipments and shortage of cars is responsible for the interruption to the shipments of cement.

CLEANLINESS SOMETIMES PAYS.

I have no documentary evidence that cleanliness pays, but I have heard of it in the mouths of novelists and American writers of stories for the sex-emphatic magazines, but I notice that the hero or heroine always begins the day—her morning—by taking a bath. The more unclean the character is morally the more particular he or she is to bathe. The more unclean the character is morally the more particular he or she is to bathe. The more unclean the character is morally the more particular he or she is to bathe.

That sort of cleanliness is questionable. But reasonable cleanliness sometimes pays. Do you know, it is a fact that little boys and girls who wash their hands and faces carefully sit down to eat without first carefully washing their hands are much more likely to have worms than are clean little folks. Even if they haven't time to sit down to eat, but just wash their hands and run out and play, they are eating the same sort of dirt as the worms.

The earth in most inhabited communities is more or less polluted with the eggs of human parasites. The eggs are conveyed to the mouth on dirty fingers. Grow-ups who patronize quick lunches and restaurants where waitresses are conspicuously absent likewise take chances of getting a mouthful of dirt when they eat. Nurses may be divided into two classes: dirty nurses and clean nurses. Satisfactory, just off her tooth baby case is a specimen of the dirty nurse. The invalid who can get well under the care of Sairey has a wonderful constitution. She doesn't believe in bathing at all, in cold weather—so she goes naked in bathing. I do, for do believe in bathing occasionally. She fears her patient "may take cold" from water, air, and such commodities. Hence the fifth.

A trained nurse's duty is to make her patient comfortable; that implies cleanliness; her second duty is to keep her patient comfortable. If she is a thoroughly competent nurse, no matter where or how she obtained her training, tooth brushes will probably be passed as long as she is in the office. A mixed diet, refined natural food, and bolting our meals. But the toothbrush is useful in inverse ratio to age; the older we get the less good a toothbrush can do you. As soon as a baby cuts a tooth the toothbrush should be brought into play. It is

SHORT FUR WRAPS IN HIGHEST FAVOR

By ELOISE.

Last year muskrat came to be so much in demand as a winter sports coat that the price was pushed almost as high as seal. The muskrat coats are again in high favor for general utility wear, such as motor, traveling, skating and such allied uses. The skins are blocked and matched with great perfection and made up into whole garments as nearly tailored as a fur coat can be. These are particularly esteemed by younger women, as are the short jackets of gray squirrel. The latter are very smart, indeed, when made up into the hip length styles and untrimmed by any other fur. Children's coats are especially in demand in this fur and some are also made up in the brown squirrel. As to the smaller wraps, the little coales which were brought out last season are again in high favor. The makers are kind enough to permit the use of a last year's model this year, thus going away with the demand for the new. The Elton jacket is the newest in the coatee models. The cape coatee are of the same belted models used last year, fitted in at the back and full in the cape effect in front. They too have the high rolling shawl collars seen on all of the new fall models. The demand seems to be greatest for the demand furs, such as skunk, sable, dyed muskrat and dyed squirrel, but these are just as often seen in a coat of natural colors.

In selecting the short jackets it must be remembered that nearly all are fitted with the high collar coat, and when one sees the shawl and roller collars on the longer coats and dolmans and capes, the straight around and high, tight collar coat, to be preferred in the shorter coat. This of course permits the use of the extra stole if desired and is therefore advantageous.

This smart little coat pictured will please the woman who does not care for the weight of a long winter garment. It is of fine seal skin made on straight lines with a slight flare and flutings at the bottom, which gives it a decidedly swaggy air. The pockets and large collar will be a prelude to cold weather. It is a perfect model for sports and street wear.

I've been eating plenty of pigs lately," growled the bear. "Oh, grandmother!" cried Little Red. "I mean Little Lizzie. What a snuff voice you have!" "This is not Little Red Riding Hood, because—"

Well, anyhow, the bear said, "Where the fence are you going?" "To the woods," said Little Lizzie. "I mean, Little Lizzie, said, 'I am going to a marriage sale to raffle off my rubbers.'"

And the bear, knowing that Little Lizzie was truthful like all girls, suspected that she was going to her grandmother's so he ran on ahead, and burst right into the grandmother's house and hugged her to death. Then he threw her in the creek and jumped into the bed and covered all up.

Presently, Little Lizzie came into the house and cried when she saw the bear. "Oh, grandmother, how big and fat you are!"

Heart and Home Problems

LETTERS MAY BE ADDRESSED TO MRS. THOMPSON IN CARE OF THE GAZETTE.

Dear Mrs. Thompson: I have received a letter from the manager of my girl friend in California and I have been rather puzzled about answering it. Will you please give me a few suggestions as to a brief outline of what I should mention when writing a letter of congratulation? My hair is continually falling in spite of all the different preparations I have used. I shampoo it every two weeks and it is a matter of but a few days before it is only again. What can I do to make my hair look respectable?

Write the letter from your heart and do not try to form it on some one else's suggestion. Wish the girl happiness and express a desire to meet her husband. Also question her about her future plans.

The following is a list for oily hair: Alcohol, two ounces; witch-hazel, two ounces; resorcin, fifteen grains. Use the mixture daily, rubbing well into the scalp. The above mixture does not keep the hair from falling change to the following: Tincture of nuxvomica, one ounce; spirits of rosemary, one ounce; alcohol, two ounces. Apply several times a week to the roots of the hair.

Dear Mrs. Thompson: I am a courtier and have a girl chum of whom I thought a great deal. Recently she let a strange boy take her home from church, leaving the church at 9:30 p.m. They took an automobile ride and stayed out until nearly 1 o'clock. Now the people of the neighborhood are talking about her.

Should I associate with her the same as usual, or should I drop her? The girl is one of the original sinners of the church. Should she still be allowed to continue playing?

DOUBTFUL CHUM. The girl probably knew what she was doing when she went riding with the young man. So far she has done nothing wrong to anyone's knowledge and people should not be so ready to look for evil in her. Doubtless she had met the young man for a long time and it is necessary to inform every one about something which was her own affair.

Of course she should be allowed to play the organ. In your mind, should a church try to help people? Or should it close its doors to all who are not sinners? Narrow-mindedness and intolerance are both sins. I am sure you have the virtue of "charity toward all" and upon giving the matter thought would not want to turn against your girl friend.

Dear Mrs. Thompson: My chum and I talked a couple of girls home. They said that they had to go home by themselves. We got on the car and went away. I got angry and lost my temper and cursed in their presence. They seem to think I ought to apologize before they will have anything to do with me. They speak to me, but that is as far as they will go. What shall I do?

Do you think I ought to apologize? What shall I say to them? Yes, I think you ought to apologize for cursing. Tell the girls that you realize that you should not have done it and that they can trust you in the future to be a gentleman.

John F.: It will be impossible for me to furnish you with the address you have requested. The young lady did not give her address when she wrote. Besides, it is contrary to the policy of my column to serve as a matrimonial agency and to exchange addresses.

I would suggest that you become associated with a T. M. C. A., where you will have many friends. They will assist you in becoming acquainted with girls.

Household Hints

MENU HINT. Breakfast. Whole Wheat Muffins. Shredded Eggs. Cocoa. Luncheon. Croquettes of Odds and Ends. Plum Sauce. Dinner. Baked Ham with Potatoes. Pear and Raisin Salad. Cherry Cake. Coffee.

RECIPES FOR A DAY. Croquettes of Odds and Ends—A couple of spoons of dried beef, cream, the lean of a cooked chop, a spoon of cold beef, a hard-boiled egg, a cold boiled potato, cream, a spoon of mayonnaise. Any or all of these chopped fine, mixed with one raw egg, a few drops of onion juice and one cup of thick white sauce. Crumb and fry in deep fat.

Pear and Raisin Salad—Peel and chill fresh pears (canned ones are just as nice); halve, and fill the cavities with seedless raisins. Serve on lettuce leaves with mayonnaise. Cherry Cake—Three cups of sour red cherries (canned), one cup of flour, six tablespoons of sugar, yolks of two eggs, one-quarter cup of milk, one tablespoon of butter, one-half teaspoon baking powder, one-quarter teaspoon salt.

Sift flour, salt and baking powder and two teaspoons of sugar together. Cream the butter. Beat yolks of eggs, add milk to eggs and quickly mix liquid through flour. Shape with hand into a greased pan one-eighth of an inch thick. Drain the cherries. Spread them over the dough and sprinkle over them the remaining sugar. Bake 20 minutes in a brisk oven.

Sauce—To the strained cherry juice add one cup of sugar, two level tablespoons of flour, pinch of salt, one level teaspoon of butter. Cook eight minutes.

Enhance of Beef on Toast—Prepare one cup of cream sauce and add one well-beaten egg, one tablespoon of butter, one teaspoon of salt, one-half teaspoon of pepper, one-quarter teaspoon of mustard. Mix and then heat until very hot.

(Note—Use one-half cup of brown gravy and one-half cup of milk for making the sauce.) Fried Rice with Tomato Sauce—Delicious utility dish and with fruit salad or fruit or with green salad, forms a meal. Boil rice in water until tender and add slowly to two quarts boiling water to which is added one tablespoon salt. Let boil 20 minutes or until kernels are soft. Drain and pour over one quart hot water; return to kettle in which it was cooked and let stand until cool and dry, when kernels will be distinct. Heat frying pan very hot, add two tablespoons butter, and when melted add rice and cook until rice is slightly browned, stirring lightly with a fork. Put in serving dish, pour over one cup hot tomato sauce and sprinkle with one-half cup grated cheese, lifting rice with fork that sauce and cheese may not coat each kernel.

She Married an Average Man

By ZOE BECKLEY.

I thought it was mostly in comic papers that an angry husband jams on his hat and goes out to the club. If any one had told me that after a month of marriage this very thing would happen to us, I would have laughed the suggestion to scorn. I thought it was mostly in comic papers that an angry husband jams on his hat and goes out to the club. If any one had told me that after a month of marriage this very thing would happen to us, I would have laughed the suggestion to scorn.

I wonder if every woman is a little disappointed with marriage. I wonder if every husband jumps to absurd conclusions regarding his wife's pre-marital conduct. I wonder if every woman is a little disappointed with marriage. I wonder if every husband jumps to absurd conclusions regarding his wife's pre-marital conduct.

I say "simple and obvious" because I do not believe any woman, save perhaps the convent-bred girl, or the daughter of a fanatically religious parent, goes to her marriage without a full knowledge of the other. I like every normal girl. I have had transient loves. I have been in and out of love half a dozen times. I consider that fact makes me all the more worthy and faithful a wife.

A girl who marries without normal experience of men does so largely out of a naive and quite natural curiosity. (Voe be to such a woman whose longing for adventure and excitement comes after her marriage.) The wife who truly appreciates her husband and husband, like myself, the girl who has had quite a little fun out of her girlhood—her little "flings" before it's too late.

Curious! The adventure, the glamour of living come before and not after marriage, there would be fewer wretched marriages. This I know.

I was thinking over all these things and more, when Jim came back from the club. It must have been nearly midnight.

"Why?" he paused in surprise. "You still up?" "Yes, Jimmie," I smiled. "Come sit here with me by the fire. It's lovely." Jim looked greatly surprised—almost embarrassed, I should say. He took off his hat and overcoat in a sort of awkward silence. Then came a knock beside me on the hearthrug, taking my hands.

"You aren't—aren't—mad at me, kiddie?" he said in his dearest tones. "Why, of course not, Jimmie." "I was disconcerted at dinner." "Well—if you were, perhaps it was natural under the circumstances; you couldn't be expected to understand." I said this as if I really meant it.

There was a pause. "It's wonderful," said Jim at last. "To come back and find you sweet and friendly, dear." I said nothing. Jim drew a long breath and sweat a glowing glance about the room. "You know," said he after a moment. "I believe the woman who makes a real home for a man, does the greatest thing a woman is capable of."

I felt wondrously happy. But somewhere deep in my heart, vexed but insistent, was the feeling that merely his wife—though Jim is 23 and I am only 22.

I wonder if other women have that same feeling of maternalism toward their husbands! (To be continued.)

The Daily Novelette

NO, INDEED! OF COURSE NOT!

Once upon a time many years ago, there lived a little girl who was very good to her old grandmother, and a good, gentle reader, this is not Little Red Riding Hood. Far be it from us to fish a story from another author. See first part of title.)

Well, this little girl was on her way to her grandmother's with a basket of chowchowberries and gooseberry wine when a big bear met her and growled. (Honest! at this is not Little Red Riding Hood, because—)

Well, anyhow, the bear said, "Where the fence are you going?" "To the woods," said Little Lizzie. "I mean, Little Lizzie, said, 'I am going to a marriage sale to raffle off my rubbers.'"

We received nine communications this morning, telling us that bandits know their business because they are holding up the hotels. Inasmuch as we published this item the other day of our own volition and initiative, we must politely but firmly refuse to print it nine times more. However, we thank our contributors, and if somebody will send in an item to the effect that the inventor of near-boer was a poor judge of distance we will use it, as it is a good joke, and we can't publish it too often. Outside of its being a good joke, it interests us personally to some considerable extent.

THE I-C-O, OF IT.

I am in love with Isabel.
For Isabel is a belle
Of beauty and of charm untold.
I care not whether wither
Or flourish, I must wither;
So, with my gains of many a year,
Full of young (and foolish) hope,
And not without some fear,
I bought a ring.
The finest for my gold,
And offered it to Isabel.
"What, this?" she said
With scornful tongue quite out of tune.
"This accidental chip? Say, kid,
Let's have a microscope
So I can see if it's right.
Why, you poor thing!
With lumb chops 40 cents a bite,
And Russian sable doubling over night,
You can't support a wife—
Not on your life!
Now roll along, sweet shriveled
prude!"
In vain my ring, in vain my zeal,
She stayed stone deaf to my appeal;
And Isabel still is a belle
Without a ring, a good joke,
Poor me, I can't be with or without her,
And I know I shall wither without
My Isabel!

WITH THE WOMEN OF TODAY

Mrs. Louise C. McKinney is one of Canada's quartet of women legislators. Mrs. McKinney sits in the Alberta house and represents Clarksburg. She is widely known outside her own province, however, in Canada women have the vote in federal elections, but in four of the nine provinces they are denied the vote in local elections. The women in Canada are making their plans for the time when full suffrage shall be granted.

Mrs. McKinney comes of a very able family. She is the sister of the Rev. Dr. Crumney, one of the most widely known of Canadian Methodist ministers and one-time head of Wesley college, Winnipeg. Mrs. McKinney is the type of woman so well known in British political circles and the type it is to be hoped will become prominent in political circles in this country when universal suffrage is adopted.

PREMIER NITTI FOR SUFFRAGE.
Premier Nitti, speaking in the chamber of deputies during the debate on the bill granting woman suffrage, said that he himself was a warm advocate of it, as women in Italy must become an important element in the political life of the nation.

The women worked as hard as the men in the war, the premier declared, and sometimes even excelled them, showing marvelous competence and endurance which was unexpected especially in a country where for centuries women had been banished from contact with masculine interests.

Premier Nitti paid a tribute to the Calabrese women who, while their husbands emigrate to America, conduct the family work in the fields or factories and transact business. He explained that it was a physical impossibility to have women vote in the next general election owing to lack of time in compiling a voting list.

It was after this speech that the bill passed, 174 to 55.

MRS. PANKHURST HERE TO KILL BOLSHEVISM.
Mrs. Emmeline Pankhurst, the British suffrage leader, was a passenger on the White Star liner Adriatic, which arrived in port recently. Mrs. Pankhurst is here on a speaking tour in the interest of woman suffrage and to enlist the aid of the women of the United States and Canada in combating bolshevism, she said. After a short tour of some of the principal cities of the United States Mrs. Pankhurst will go in October to Canada, where she will lecture extensively.

"I am here to kill bolshevism," said Mrs. Pankhurst. "It is the greatest evil in the world today, and the women of England realize it and are solidly against the menace. I am going to urge the women of the United States in the cities where I am to lecture to help in the fight against this evil. I know that they will respond as nobly as the women of England have done."

Asked about conditions in England, Mrs. Pankhurst, who has made numerous visits to the United States, said: "I think that England is more democratic than the United States. The war has done a great deal to cement the laboring classes and the so-called upper classes together. Now they are in perfect harmony and the best of feeling exists between the two."

GOLF LIKE LIFE, SAYS STANDARD OIL WIZARD.
New York Golf is just like the game of life. Concentration, more concentration and still more concentration are the essentials for victory, John D. Rockefeller, Standard Oil wizard and golfer, pays this tribute to the game which the Scotch invented and Americans have made famous. "If you permit yourself to relax at the crucial moment, either in life or golf, the result will be failure," Mr. Rockefeller added. "Of course, the formula for success is simple. That is to try to do it right the first time. It is so difficult to carry it out, why it is so difficult to carry it out."

"I enjoy golf because it is so much like life. Of course, I make mistakes, but that adds zest to the game. To try to attain perfection is interesting in any endeavor."

WHO'S WHO in the Day's News

Maj. Gen. Robert L. Bullard.

MAJ. GEN. ROBERT L. BULLARD.
Major Gen. Robert L. Bullard, who was in command of the recently returned 1st division from Dec. 15, 1917, to June 30, 1918, and again from July 7, 1918, to July 15, 1918, led the division through the first days in a sector of their own near Toul and when they were thrown into the line near Montdidier where they gave the first exhibition of the power of the American offensive by the capture of Cantigny. General Bullard was graduated from West Point in the class of 1885 and was commissioned as a second lieutenant of infantry. He served at many posts in this country and also in the Philippines.

In France he was decorated with the Distinguished Service cross, the Croix de Guerre with two palms, the Belgian Order of Leopold and the Legion of Honor.

After giving over the command of the 1st on July 15, 1918, General Bullard was given command of an army corps during the operations on the Vesle and again during the St. Mihiel offensive. After a few weeks in command of a corps in the Argonne he was placed in command of the newly formed Second army and was promoted to the rank of lieutenant general Oct. 16, 1918. General Bullard was facing the closing words of a citation that he issued to his troops after they had taken the Bois des Fays in Argonne, when he said, "You are there, stay there."

JOHNSTOWN

[By Gazette Correspondent.]
Johnstown, Sept. 25.—Mrs. John O'Malley, aged 85, a well-known resident of Johnstown, who had spent the greater part of her life in Rock county, died at an early hour Sunday morning of heart trouble. She had been ill for two years, but her last severe illness was about six weeks' duration. Funeral services were held Tuesday at 10 o'clock from St. Mary's church, Janesville. Her husband passed away about 14 years ago. The children are Mrs. Mary Cronin and Charles O'Malley, Janesville; John O'Malley, Rockford, and Mrs. Walter Kelley, Johnstown.

Mr. and Mrs. Murphy and daughter, Gartrude, Mrs. Ormand, Mr. Waukegan, and Mr. and Mrs. Frank Dousman, were guests of Mr. and Mrs. C. Craig, Sunday.

William, Ellsworth, Oregon, accompanied by William Cook and family, were Sunday guests at the Jones home.

Mr. and Mrs. Smith held a reunion at their home Sunday. Relatives from Elkhorn, Whitewater, Johnstown and Lima were present.

$2,250 IN LIQUOR FINES.
Careful—Fines amounting to $2,250 were imposed for selling liquor at more than the controlled price at the 1919 Agricultural Show. The defense was that after the first day of the fair, when nearly 10,000 glasses were broken, the prices had to be increased or the firm would have suffered loss.

Copy of League Covenant Free

They are battling over the league of nations from Alaska to Florida, from Stockholm to Melbourne. There is hardly a man in the world, capable of thought, who is not stirred by the situation.

"Here is a constitution for the world, binding its millions of freemen together, abolishing war for all time, binding the possibility of decent living to downtrodden peoples. The boon it brings have been bought with the blood of our own boys fighting overseas."

These are the declarations of those who favor the covenant of the league of nations.

"Here is a patchwork of secret treaties. Here is the worst that European diplomacy can do in the way of intrigue, compromise, deception. Here the United States is led into the maze of European politics and made a party to all the difficulties of the future. Here is a breeder of endless future wars."

Thus say the opponents of the league.

What are you, the average citizen, to believe? If you depend on the leaders, the orators, the propagandists, you are buffeted by one contention and another until you are intellectually lost.

Why not go to the original document? Why not see what was put down by the representatives of nations and signed at Paris? We offer you FREE the covenant of the league of nations. It is a document framed in simple language which any individual can understand. It is probably more important than Magna Charta or Declaration of Independence. Every reader should have first hand knowledge of it. The League to Enforce Peace has printed it in convenient form. Hundreds and Hundreds of Beautiful New Stamped Materials are Shown.

Many of the things are quite simple to do, although beautiful in their effect. Perhaps no other pastime is as restful to a woman as her needlework and there is surely none of more refining influence than Hand Embroidery. Whether on Lingerie, Blouses, Children's Dresses, Linens, or decorative articles for the home, a little embroidery adds that finishing touch and daintiness that stamps the article as individual. We show a big assortment of models that have been finished as guides to those who contemplate doing the work.

ALBANY PLANS TO BRING ALONG BAND FOR GAME SUNDAY

Albany is billed to battle the Lawrence Jansons at the fair grounds here Sunday afternoon in the first home game in nearly two months. What kind of an aggregation the Albanians will have remains a mystery, but if it is anything like the team which held the Jansons to a 2-1 victory at the Albany homecoming, August 25, then it is bound to be a real ball game. The mighty George Zabel pitched for the villagers on that day and it was Conroy's home run that gave him his first defeat of the year.

Albany fans declare they are going to bring the village band along, together with plenty of hard cash, so it is evident they plan to bring a fast team.

Manager Murphy will start Eddie Brodie on the mound with the regular line-up in back of him. Croake will catch. The batting order:

Miller, cf.
Hennings, lb.
Conroy, c.
Croake, p.
Brodie, 2b.

Oak Hennings, at first, is a Western Canada league star, who has been playing with Wapogan the past few weeks. So we no doubt prove a valuable addition to the team.

MONROE NAG TAKES 2:18 PAGE AT OSHKOSH

Oshkosh, Sept. 25.—Two good horse races drew heavily at the Oshkosh county fair Wednesday afternoon in one especially fast time was made and there were several spirited fights for honors as the summary shows.

In the others it was one-two-three order all the way round. For the mile not only were money prizes given but special prizes awarded. Miss Anita Knight, Monroe, finished third in the first heat but then took three firsts in the 2:18 pace, on the 2:12 trot, Maggie (Fond du Lac) won in straight heats. Summary:

2:18 pace, $500—
Miss Anita Knight (Monroe) 1 1 1
Dan Trotter (Winnetka) 2 2 2
Red Heart (Ripon) 3 3 3
Rbt Richmond (Watertown) 4 4 4
Time: 2:18 1-2, 2:15 1-2, 2:15 1-2, 2:19 1-2.

2:12 trot, $400—

75 Cents for Big Ten Games at Madison

[Special to the Gazette.]
Madison, Sept. 25.—Even football has given way at Wisconsin to the onslaughts of Old Man H. C. O. L. The Big Ten games at the University of Wisconsin are up, shoulder pads are up, headgear are up and the team must travel, and nothing must be left undone to bring home the bacon.

So instead of paying the customary four bits when one goes out to watch the boys step about the field this fall, one must add two bits for luck. The fee now is 75 cents.

The increase in admissions is general throughout the conference.

Ruth Registers His 28th Circuit Clout

New York, Sept. 25.—The Boston Red Sox shut out the Yankees, 4 to 0, in the first game of a double header here yesterday, and then lost a 13-inning battle by 2 to 4. Ruth broke the home run record of 27 by Ed Williamson in 1884 by driving the ball over the roof of the right field grandstand in the ninth inning of the second game. This tied the score and resulted in a thirteen-inning game.

SOX CINCH FLAG IN AMERICAN LEAGUE BY DOWNING BROWNS

Chicago, Sept. 25.—Beyond the power of the ultimate mathematical or mundane mishap to thwart them, Chicago's White Sox made themselves immutably and eternally champions of the American League for 1919 by trimming the Browns yesterday, 6 to 5, in one of the gamiest uphill battles they have ever staged.

With the ace of their pitching staff, Eddie Cicotte, knocked out of the mound before the first inning, the Sox, with Capt. Collins banished from the scrap by a peevish umpire for kicking over a hair line decision at the plate, and with the score board indicating that they did not have to beat the Browns in order to clinch the pennant, the Gleasons kept on battling until, by means of a relentless rally in the last half of the ninth, they won their own pennant with lots of margin to spare.

Dick Kerr, who replaced the damaged White Sox ace on the slab, led the victorious assault in the final round with a single. Liebold went to right center, to third, on a single to center, which squirted off Jacobson's shins. McMullen, who took the place of the banished catcher, came up to bat where a hit would convert a 5 to 6 score against the Sox into a victory, but the foxy Soxon walked him, filling the bases.

Weaver lammed a long fly to center, on which Kerr registered the tying rally, and it was so far away that Liebold raced to third after the catch. To Joe Jackson came the chance to drive the last nail into the pennant, and he did it with a vicious shot to right center, good for two or three bases under ordinary circumstances, but only a single yesterday, because the game and the pennant race was over when Liebold scored from third on it.

HORSES RUN TRUE TO FORM AT COLUMBUS

Columbus, Sept. 25.—In a program yesterday of Grand Circuit events full of good stakes and strong competition on a good track most of the favorites cashed for their backers and no long shouting speak of went over the top.

McGregor the Great won another good trotting stake in the 2:12 Buckeye event from his rival Marion Duke. He never was in trouble.

In the Board of Trade 2:35 pace Sanardo and Grace Direct were about even favorites. Sanardo won in three straight heats. However, in three hard miles. The best time was 2:02 2-4, made in the first heat. This was the fastest mile of the meeting so far.

THE EXPRESSION WINS AT LA CROSSE

La Crosse, Sept. 25.—William Catura of Durand, after finishing second and third in the 2:15 pace here on Wednesday, stepped out and won the next two heats, which with the first heat gave him and his horse Cecil Bend first money from George Loomis of St. Paul. It was one of the most exciting events of the fair.

The results follow:

Club	W.	L.	Pct.
Cecil Bend (Catura Durand)	1	2	.333
Cecil Bend (Catura)	1	2	.333
Teddy Montana (Loomis St. Paul)	4	1	.800

71 Women Entered in National Golf Meet

New York, Sept. 25.—Seventy-one of the best women golfers in the country have entered for the 1919 national golf championship tournament, which will begin at the Shawnee Country club, Shawnee-on-Deleware, Pa., next Monday. The last competition for the national women's title was held in 1916 at Waverly, Mass., when Miss Alexia Stirling of Atlanta, Ga., won by two and one from Miss M. Caverly of the Philadelphia Cricket club.

Can Gleson Depend Upon This Pair To Help "Aces" in World Series?

By N. E. BROWN.

While Kid Gleson will depend upon Eddie Cicotte and Williams to carry his club through to victory in the world series, it is improbable that he can get through the battles without having to inject another hurler, or two, into the games. Kerr and Faber are the only other hurlers on which Gleson would dare take a chance in the important contests. What the Sox—and Red Sox—fans are trying to do out is whether these two can hold up their end of the
